

REMARKS

Claims 1 through 21 remain pending in the present case.

101 REJECTIONS

The present Office Action alleges Claims 1 and 2 represent an abstract idea that does not provide a practical application in the technological arts. Applicants respectfully assert there is no judicially recognized separate “technological arts” test to determine patent eligible subject matter under section 101. See Ex parte Carl Lundgren (Bd. Pat. App. & Inter 204) (precedential).

102 REJECTIONS

In the above referenced Office Action, Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 USC 102(b) as being anticipated by Sun Microsystems, Inc., JavaHelp System User’s Guide, June 2002 1-97 and referred to as JavaHelp hereinafter.

With regards to Claim 1, Applicants respectfully assert the JavaHelp Users Guide reference does not teach a helpset build method as recited in Claim 1. For example, Claim 1 recites in part:

... building helpset files and subhelpset files in an automatic recursive manner;

Applicants respectfully assert that the JavaHelp User Guide reference does not teach building helpset files and subhelpset files in an automatic recursive manner. To the extent the JavaHelp User Guide reference may mention a user manually issuing a jar command descends recursively through the different directories [Page 47], Applicants respectfully assert the JavaHelp User Guide reference does not teach building helpset files and subhelpset files in an automatic recursive manner.

Applicants respectfully assert Claim 2 is allowable as depending upon an allowable independent Claim1. The present Office Action alleges the JavaHelp User Guide teaches parsing the gathered files and identifying related helpsets. To the extent the JavaHelp User Guide reference may mention the jhinderexer command parses HTML topic files [Page 97], Applicants respectfully assert the JavaHelp User Guide reference does not teach identifying related helpsets.

Allowable Subject Matter

Applicants thank the Examiner for indicating Claim 3-5 are allowable and Claims 6-21 are allowed.

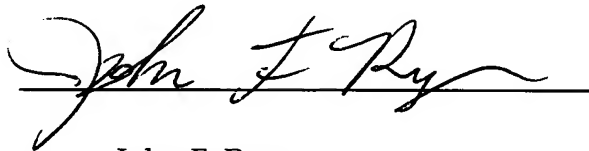

CONCLUSION

In light of the above remarks, Applicants respectfully request allowance of the remaining Claims. The Examiner is urged to contact Applicants' undersigned representative if the Examiner believes such action would expedite resolution of the present Application.

Respectfully submitted,

WAGNER, MURABITO & HAO
